TRG ELEGANT

Anatomical insoles highly recommended for people who suffer from tired, aching feet, or for those who undergo prolonged periods of standing or take long walks. It has three support points: arch of the foot, metatarsal drop and heel; the body weight is distributed among these areas, thus delaying the appearance of the first symptoms of fatigue. Relief is immediately felt in the central part of the sole, providing a grateful sensation of comfort and well-being. The insole is made of two layers: the finest leather on top, and felt with a charge of activated charcoal in the bottom layer, which absorbs the sweat and eliminates foot odor.
